To Whom It May Concern:

I am a personal injury attorney with over fourteen years of practice. Over the past year, our firm has referred numerous clients to Elite Performance Clinic for physical therapy. Based on consistent results and professional collaboration, I am pleased to recommend them.

Patient-centered care. Sasha and his team treat our clients with dignity and empathy, focusing on functional recovery and a safe return to normal activities. Clients routinely report feeling supported throughout treatment.

Clinical integrity. Elite Performance practices appropriate, evidence-based utilization. Patients are reassessed regularly and are discharged upon reaching maximum medical improvement (MMI) rather than being kept in therapy unnecessarily. This judgment and restraint are invaluable to our practice and our clients.

Excellent documentation and billing. Sarah oversees communications and billing with exemplary responsiveness. Records arrive timely, are complete and HIPAA-compliant, and include clear, contemporaneous progress notes that accurately reflect the course of care. When materials are needed for demand packages, depositions, or trial, the documentation is organized and defensible.

Clear, proactive communication. The clinic keeps us apprised of attendance, progress, and any barriers to recovery without prompting. Requests for updates or records are handled promptly, which keeps cases moving efficiently.

Meaningful outcomes. Our clients demonstrate measurable improvements in pain, mobility, and function, aligning with the consistently positive feedback we receive.

Elite Performance Clinic has become a trusted rehabilitation partner for our firm. I recommend them without reservation to any practice seeking ethical, outcome-driven physical therapy and a seamless working relationship.

Very truly yours,
